"RUBBER" CHECK ARTIST PROVEN TO BE CONVICT

Man, Arrested Here Thursday. Fugitive From Iowa Prison

The activity of Robert Hill, clerk at the Kline Tire Shop, in apprehending a stranger Thursday afternoon who gave the name of J. W. Scott, resulted in the capture of an escaped convict, it became known last evening when Chief Van Bibber of the police department found a complete description and three photographs of the convict in his files. Scott gave a check for $25 in payment for a tire and tube at the Kline store Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock and when Hill's suspicions became aroused, he started in pursuit of the stranger. Scott went west on First street to Peoria avenue, crossed the bridge and then backtracked to Galena avenue where he boarded a taxicab.

Hill stepped on the running board and ordered the stranger to return to the store. The tire and tube were returned as was the money and Officer Glessner was called. Scott told a disconnected and contradictory story of having been employed by a household woodworker company of Chicago and Detroit, but could show no identification. He was taken to the police station and locked up while an investigation was conducted and Thursday night was held to the September grand jury under bonds of $2,000 on a charge of issuing worthless checks.

Escaped June 22 Scott had engaged a room at a local boarding house and in his effects were found several blank checks, some already filled out ready for passage and some business cards, which Scott admitted he had printed in Rockford a few days previous. Scott admitted that the name he gave was fictitious, but told a story of having a wife and two children whom he did not desire to have suffer for his wrong doing.

Last night it was learned that the stranger escaped from a camp of convicts from the Fort Madison, Iowa, penitentiary on June 22 near Toledo, Iowa. He was known as R. W. Gladden when received at the penitentiary more than four years ago but later assumed the name of J. W. Wilson and since his escape, had used the name of J. W. Scott. Warden T. P. Hollowell of the Fort Madison penitentiary was notified by Chief Van Bibber last evening of the convict's apprehension here and in a telegram received late last night, stated that an officer had been dispatched to Dixon to take the prisoner in custody and return him to the institution. Scott last night told officers that he was sent to the Iowa penitentiary for the same offense which he attempted here Thursday afternoon. A reward of $50 is offered for his capture.

Agency For Tong Gunmen Uncovered

New York, Aug. 15—(U.P.)—An employment agency to recruit gunmen for Tong warfare was believed today to have been revealed after a police raid on a Chinese laundry. A Filipino and three Chinese were arrested and a number of loaded revolvers, several sharp knives and a hatchet were confiscated.

Two informers caused the raid. Police alleged $500 a head was offered by the agency for the murder of rival tongmen.

Police said two white youths were approached last week by the Filipino, who asked them whether they wanted to make some easy money. On assenting, they were told "all they'd have to do was murder some Chinamen." The agreed to meet their strange employer, but meanwhile communicated with the authorities.

At a conference last night the youths were instructed to murder three Chinese in laundries in Brooklyn and Chinatown. They were given three loaded revolvers and three sharp knives wrapped in newspaper to carry out their work. At this point detectives arrived.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

AMBOY MAN FINED

James Dyer, of Amboy, was fined $3 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge when arraigned before Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court this morning.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Jack Goshert, of Sterling, who was badly cut about the head and face when he was thrown through the windshield of an automobile in an accident Thursday and who has been receiving treatment at the Dixon hospital, was able to return to his home in Sterling this morning.

GUARDSMEN HERE

Officers and members of Co. A, 129th Infantry, Illinois National Guard returned home this morning from a very successful and enjoyable encampment at Camp Grant, near Rockford. The members of the company participated in many maneuvers which were new to them this season. Several Dixon people motored to Camp Grant Thursday and witnessed the annual inspection of the massed Illinois troops.

RESIGNS POSITION

John Shaulis, Jr., who has been employed at the Cledon Confectionery store this summer, is resigning his position this evening to go with his father, Attorney J. D. Shaulis, to their farm in Iowa where they have some work to supervise. John will return to Carthage College this fall to complete, this year, his course at the college.

THE REAL SPIRIT

George Aschenbrenner, Jr., of the Better Paint store has shown a very enthusiastic spirit this week in preparing the Dixon Airport for the reception of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce air tour next Wednesday. George donated his services and materials and repainted all of the metal border markers at the airport and also superintended the clearing of the large circle in the center of the field where the planes will land.

IN POLICE COURT

George Dance, of Paw Paw, and Howard Shirk, of Mendota, were arrested by deputy sheriffs at a dance given at Paw Paw last evening and brought to the county jail at Dixon. Both were charged with possessing intoxicating liquor before Police Magistrate A. E. Simonson this morning and assessed fines of $100 and costs each. Mike Kinney, arrested last evening was fined $25 and costs for being intoxicated and was sent to the county jail.

HIS AIM TOO GOOD

Roy Spencer, of Amboy, paid a fine of $10 and costs when arraigned before Police Magistrate A. E. Simonson at the county jail last evening on a charge of assault and battery, preferred against him by Andrew E. Dukes, a farmer residing about six miles southwest of Amboy. Dukes contended that Spencer came to his home yesterday afternoon and an argument started about the payment of a bill. Spencer was alleged to have picked up a rock which he threw with great accuracy, striking Dukes in the side of the face and dislodging some of his teeth beside causing painful bruises.

Increase Highway Building Program

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16—(U.P.)—As a first step to relieve unemployment and financial distress which has been emphasized by the recent drought, Governor L. L. Emmerson today instructed H. H. Cleveland, Director of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings, to place under contract for this year $4,000,000 worth of road work that was to have been constructed in 1931.

Blood in the average human body travels five times the total distance between New York and Manila in one year.

TRUTH OF HOLOCAUST IN OHIO PENITENTIARY DISCLOSED BY STATE INVESTIGATORS TODAY

Columbus, O., Aug. 16—(U.P.)—A flickering taper lighted by freedom-mad convicts and timed to explode a can of highly volatile fluid while the prisoners were at supper, started the Easter Monday state penitentiary holocaust that cost 320 prisoners their lives.

This picture, the portrayal of a tragedy almost unparalleled, was sketched by state officials today as it became known that two convicts, suspected of implication in the plot were lodged secretly in the City jail. At the same time it was reported that of four other supposed ring-leaders two perished in the fire of their own making and the other two, their minds twisted by the un-

REUNION DIXON COLLEGE ALUMNI ATTRACTS MANY

Informal Dinner Last Evening Inaugurated Yearly Event

Last evening at the informal dinner held at the Assembly Park hotel for the alumni and faculty of old Dixon College the tables were filled to capacity, ushering in the annual college reunion with gratifying enthusiasm.

In the unavoidable absence of Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, who was to have been the speaker of the evening, Representative John P. Devine presided, and he opened the program by reading a letter from Prof. J. B. Dille, first president of the college, in which the writer regretted his inability to attend the reunion, being ill in a Chicago hospital.

This prompted Co. Supt. L. W. Miller to present a letter—a testimonial of sympathy and expressing the sincere regret of the student body for the founder's illness—which was signed by all former students attending the reunion and forwarded to him.

Attorney E. E. Wingert, one of the early students and instructors, spoke most interestingly of student life back in 1884. Then followed brief talks by members of the faculty present—Prof. L. B. Neighbour, Prof. W. F. Strong and Judge J. W. Watts—those valiant members of the "Old Guard" to whom the alumni delight in listening.

Then followed a few words by the President of the College Alumni, Dr. E. S. Murphy, to whom is due, because of his untiring activity and energy, the success and popularity of the college reunions. Mrs. Burnham and Miss Eustace, representing the women instructors, spoke briefly and from then on to the end of the evening former students told of pleasant memories and present activities.

Other Speakers

Among these were: Charles Balzelle, who introduced his brother, Federal Judge Balzelle of Indianapolis; Judge William Mitchell of West Frankfort; R. L. Russell, who paid a sincere tribute to the old college and spoke feelingly of the absence of Attorney H. Brewster because of serious illness; J. C. Dittus, Joliet; Attorney Mark Keller, Martin Gannon and Harry Warner of Dixon; D. W. Phenix, Bradford banker; William C. Clausen, Chicago; Arthur DeRove, Ada Hardesty, Secretary of the Alumni Association, Chicago; Attorney A. G. Harris, Mr. Lux, Mr. Anderson, of Polo and Mr. and Mrs. Hornfield, the latter formerly Miss Irene Black.

Chicagoan Escaped From Burning Auto

Isaac Sall of Chicago, driving a Buick sedan, narrowly escaped being burned to death when he was pinned beneath the steering wheel of his wrecked and burning car on the Lincoln Highway about three miles east of Sterling yesterday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock. Sall is said to have been traveling east at a high rate of speed when a dog suddenly started across the road. The Chicagoan turned to prevent striking the dog, the wheels skidding and the car leaving the paving.

The heavy sedan skidded as the driver applied the brakes and turned end over end in a ditch. The car caught fire and burned slowly at first, while a farmer who witnessed the accident rushed to the scene and extricated the driver, who sustained only minor cuts and bruises. The Sterling fire department sent a truck to the scene but the car was completely destroyed.

Members Dixon U. S. W. V. To Meetings

Capt. Chas. E. Frisby left Tuesday for Philadelphia where he will act as one of the delegates of Baldwin Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, at the National Convention, convening Monday. Major Sam W. Cushing will leave Sunday morning and will make a trip to his old home town, Boston, Mass., after the convention. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Helmick and daughter Dorothy left this morning for vacation trip going to Springfield where they will attend the opening day of the State Fair this being Veterans Day, and Mr. Helmick will represent the Spanish War Veterans at the Department. Inspector A. They will leave Springfield Sunday for Randolph, Kan., where they will visit Mrs. Helmick's relatives.

HARDEST LUCK MAN

Oshkosh, Wis.—(U.P.)—Arthur C. Powell has won a name here for attracting hard luck. In May a storm blew one of his barns off of its foundation. In June two barns were removed from their foundations by a wind storm. Recently he lost three of his farm buildings by fire. And to top it off, his car was damaged in an automobile collision which occurred when he was driving to Oshkosh to report his fire losses.

GANG OF POULTRY THIEVES IS BELIEVED BROKEN UP THROUGH ARRESTS MADE LAST EVENING

Sheriff's Force Takes Two Men With Auto Load Of Poultry

A well organized gang of chicken thieves who are believed to have been active for weeks in remote parts of Lee county and possibly in LaSalle, Bureau and Ogle counties, was thought to have been broken up this morning when Sheriff Ward Miller and a force of deputies arrested Floyd and W. L. Chessmore, formerly of this city, as the former's farm home on state highway 89 in Marion township. A third party, who is believed to have been shot while escaping through cornfields.

The raid on the Chessmore farm took place about 11:30 last night when Sheriff Miller and several deputies conducted a liquor raid on the premises. A small amount of liquor is said to have been found and Floyd Chessmore was brought to the county jail and locked up shortly after midnight. Numerous reports of activities along the line of chicken thievery, led Sheriff Miller to remain with several deputies at the farm until daylight this morning.

Third Man Escaped

About 3:15 W. L. Chessmore and the third man, whose name is withheld, drove into the farm in an old sedan. As the officers started to surround the car one of the men darted out of the machine and ran through the corn fields. He paid no attention to orders to halt and warning shots were rained in his direction. A search was being instigated west of Eldena and north of Walton today for the third man.

In the W. L. Chessmore car the officers found two large crates containing about 75 chickens. Chessmore is said to have admitted driving the car during the night while his companion visited four different hen houses, picking out heavy hens which were placed in burlap bags and carried to the car, then placed in the coops. Sheriff Miller accompanied Chessmore over the route which he said he drove during the night and found chickens missing at each of the four places.

Visited Three Farms

Chessmore and his companion visited the farms of George Halbmaier, George Dinges and Ben Ulich, south of Compton and the John Erbes farm near West Brooklyn. All of these farmers were to inspect the two coops of about 75 hens which were being held at the county jail today for the purpose of identifying chickens. About 200 chickens were said to have been found in various buildings on the Chessmore farm.

Officers stated that W. L. Chessmore and his companion had both been drinking when they arrived at the farm this morning and an automatic pistol was taken from the former when he was searched at the farm. The place is said to have been under surveillance for several days and reports coming to the Sheriff indicated that large numbers of chickens had been hauled away from there and sold to poultry dealers in Rockford and Chicago. Officers were still stationed at the farm today while a checkup of chicken thefts over the past few weeks was being made. Poultry found on the farm was said to have various markings and leg bands by which it was hoped to identify many of the birds.

Broker Plunged To His Death Today

BROKER PLUNGED Chicago, Aug. 16—(U.P.)—H. J. Hoffman, 42, real estate broker, plunged to his death today from the 17th floor of the Masonic Temple building.

A moment before his body was found in the courtyard between the skyscraper and an adjoining theatre, Hoffman had been in conference with his lawyer, Sam Grossman, in regard to a forthcoming creditors' meeting at which Hoffman's debts were to be discussed.

The broker, who was a partner in the firm of Hoffman & Becker, excused himself temporarily in the midst of the conference and walked out of Grossman's office on the 17th floor. His fall was not witnessed.

William Underwood Died Friday Eve

William A. Underwood, whose critical illness was mentioned in Friday evening's Telegraph, passed away at his home, 1306 First street, at 5 o'clock Friday evening, after he suffered from the heart attack he suffered Tuesday evening. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and at the Franklin Grove Church of the Brethren at 2:30. Rev. B. C. Whitmore officiating, and with burial in the Franklin Grove cemetery. Obituary will be published later.

Commercial bankruptcy causes a loss of about $750,000,000 a year to American business.

FLIERS' MANAGER WAILS BECAUSE OF LACK OF SUPPORT

He Complains Of Meagre Returns For Endurance Men

St. Louis, Aug. 16—(AP)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine still were adding hours to their sustained flight record today, and Bill Pickens, their manager, still was complaining about what he called the meager financial returns harvested by Messrs. Jackson, O'Brine and Pickens.

Thus far Pickens had been able to close but four contracts, totaling about $1,800 for the fliers, and this comprises "their sole reward" except for $7,000 they will receive from an oil company whose products they are using, Pickens complained.

"Just to think," he wailed, "there are those two boys making the greatest endurance flight in history, and a great big New York company says $1,800 is too high a price to advertise one of its products. What those boys need is a high fence around their ship. The other night half of the people in St. Louis came out here and we didn't collect a dime. A free show and they all come out."

Despite all his troubles, however, Pickens is "trying to keep up the old spirit and so far we have not cut our price because the one big mistake in the promotion business is to ask for $2,000 when you could have had $5,000."

St. Louis' lack of financial generosity is no mystery to Pickens, the city is "too close to big achievements in aviation."

"Lindbergh spoiled you folks," he explained "and unless a show can be made to rival a trans-Atlantic crossing you are not interested at least not financially."

One of St. Louis' largest theatres will give a midnight show tonight for the benefit of the Jackson-O'Brine exchequer.

Today was the 27th in the air for Jackson and O'Brine in the monoplane "Greater St. Louis. Apparently they were not nearly so worried as their manager on the ground. The only complaint that had come from them was that "the air surely is rolling."

At 8:11 a. m. CST they had completed 625 hours in the air.

ZUTA'S RECORDS SHOW GRAFT IN OFFICIAL LIFE

Gangster's Deposit Box Reveals Incriminating Evidence

Chicago, Aug. 16—(AP)—Carefully preserved records of a slain gang leader were made public by the State's Attorney's office last night, showing enormous receipts from liquor, gambling and vice interests on one side of the ledger and substantial disbursements to judges, politicians and police on the other.

The cancelled checks, notes and ledger sheets of Jack Zuta, vice overlord who was shot down in a Wisconsin dance hall recently, were found in a secret safe deposit box yesterday by investigators for the State's Attorney's office assigned to solve the slaying of Jake Lingle, Tribune reporter.

During the day prosecutors refused to divulge the secrets they had found, saying only that they were of a sensational nature. Late last night they relented and handed newspapermen photostatic copies of what they said were only a small part of the Zuta records.

The published records included the following items:

Judge Is Named Cancelled checks and notes aggregating $5,500 on which appear the name of a Municipal Court judge who has been on the bench for many years.

A cancelled check for $250 made out to a former judge of Municipal, Superior and Criminal courts.

An unpaid note for $600 on which appeared the name of a former Police Sergeant who at one time was assigned to investigation of vote frauds and who later worked under the Civic Safety Commission.

Checks totalling $600 either made payable to or endorsed in the name of a former State Senator and west side political leader.

A cancelled check for $500 made payable to a large Cook county political club.

Cancelled checks of $500 and $100 endorsed in the name of an attorney who is the brother of a Circuit Court judge.

Week's Profit $75,135.37

A ledger sheet which is headed "period end Nov. 12 inclusive" shows receipts of $429,046.78 and net profits of $75,135.37. Investigators believe this was the record for one week of the gambling and bootlegging enterprises of the Zuta-Moran-Aiello gang.

One of the disbursements in this sheet—"East Chicago . . . $3,500"—is believed to refer to officials of the East Chicago police station.

The names of various resorts in and near Chicago are listed with receipts as high as $123,598.76. One disbursement of $14,544 to "George M. person al" is believed to have been made to George "Bugs" Moran, one of the leaders of the gang.

The rest of Zuta's records will be made public only after they have been carefully investigated, Patrick Roche, Chief Investigator for the State's Attorney's office, said. All of those listed in the records will be questioned, he said.

Valuable Evidence Roche expressed the belief that the evidence will have a definite relationship to the solving of the Lingle slaying. Zuta's death was considered by many as a sequel to the reporter's and police have investigated under the theory that Zuta, an ally of Moran, plotted the assassination of Lingle, a friend of Al Capone, Moran's arch enemy.

Richard J. Williams was the police sergeant whose $600 note, endorsed by himself, appeared in the files. Sgt. Williams denied ever having entered into any transaction with Zuta. He explained that he gave a $600 note several years ago to a man named Masse when raising funds for a home.

"I tried to pay it back later," Williams said. "But he said, 'Keep it as long as you like,' and I never did."

U. S. CAVALRYMAN DIED A HERO TRYING TO SAVE LIVES OF HIS WIFE, ANOTHER WOMAN, 10 GIRLS

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 16—(U.P.)—Lieutenant Allen Cavanaugh, recent graduate of the Cavalry school of Fort Riley, Kansas, was drowned in Lake Champlain, it was learned today, after a heroic attempt to save the lives of his wife, a woman Camp Counsellor, and ten girls, who were pitched into the water from overturned boats.

How Lieut. Cavanaugh met death, whose repeated dives to unswear the motor of one of the boats resulted in his drowning, was revealed by the survivors upon their return to Brown Lodge camp last night.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

STOLE SHERIFF'S PURSE

Charleston, Ill., Aug. 16—(U.P.)—Stanley B. Moore, Sheriff of Coles county, was undecided today as to do with his money. Yesterday he attended a public meeting here and when he left the scene he discovered that his wallet containing $35 had been picked from his pocket.

Like most sheriffs he carries a revolver in one hip pocket and his wallet in the other. The revolver was not molested.

MIDNIGHT AT NOON

New York, Aug. 16—(U.P.)—Night fell over New York City at 11 o'clock this morning and thousands of lights guided the populace through the streets.

A heavy haze hung over the metropolis at dawn and this steadily deepened until shortly after 11 A. M. skies were almost pitch dark. Slowly the city lighted up as it does at nightfall. As the darkness grew in thickness the great office buildings became a mass of illumination.

Subway stations followed suit their vari-colored lights, blinking out unaccustomedly for day time. Fruit stands, soft drink parlors and other small concession stands which dot the city were lighted, their big signs—many of which make up the part of the illumination that has made New York the lightest city of the world at night—gleaming out through the almost impenetrable darkness.

The weather bureau was deluged with calls as to what caused the darkness.

R-100 RETURNS TO HOME PORT THIS MORNING

Proved Her Strength By Riding Storm On Home Jaunt

Cardington, Eng., Aug. 16—(A.P.)—Through terrific storms that tested her mettle and proved her seaworthiness the British dirigible R-100 today completed her voyage to Canada and back and was moored safely to her home mast at 12:02 P. M. A. M. E. S. T. without incident.

The world's largest lighter-than-air craft twice crossed the Atlantic ocean in a span of 3,287 miles along the Great Circle route and added to her voyage the mileage from St. Hubert Field Montreal, to Ottawa, Toronto and return.

Besides displaying remarkable speed capabilities, the bulky airship conclusively demonstrated her might by strength by riding out wind and storm in the latter part of her home run, to the immense satisfaction of her designer and the officers and passengers on board.

The dirigible left Montreal at 8:28 P. M. (E. S. T.) Wednesday. Following the Great Circle almost deviation, a speed up to 92 miles an hour was attained. When headwinds buffeted her, the R-100 slowed down to 12 or 15 miles an hour, but rode steadily on under perfect control.

The time of crossing was approximately 57 hours, according to an official announcement.

Cardington, despite the bad weather turned out in force to greet the air adventurers. The R-100 dropped her mooring cable at 11:30 A. M., after circling the airfield and was fastened to her mast 32 minutes later.

It took an hour and 22 minutes to bring in the airship from the time it was sighted over the field.

SHOCKS THE FLIES

Evansville, Ind.—(U.P.)—A wire screen charged with electricity is used by Dr. D. B. Reed, to keep his Evansville home free from flies. The screen is connected with a light socket. When a fly lights upon it there is a small flash as the insect is burned to death.

ARE FORCED TO ABANDON LINER SHIPPING WATER

Nearest Rescue Ship Is 12 Hours Away From Sinking Vessel

BULLETIN:

(By The Associated Press)

Three hundred and seventeen persons, passengers and crew of the disabled Union Line steamer Tahiti, were tossing about in the South Seas in open lifeboats today awaiting succor from three other steamers rushing at top speed to the rescue.

The Tahiti, bound for San Francisco from Wellington, N. Z., became disabled and was abandoned 460 miles southwest of Raratonga Island in the Cook group. The starboard propeller and tail shaft were lost and the number four hold was flooded.

Ships rushing to aid the Tahiti were the Ventura of the Matson (American) line, the Tofua, and the Norwegian ship Penryn. The latter was expected to reach the scene momentarily, said advices received this morning at San Francisco by the Matson Navigation Company.

Union Line offices in San Francisco were trying to ascertain the names of passengers and crew. Although it was known there were 317 persons aboard it was not known exactly how many were passengers. It was believed the crew numbered 142, which would make the passenger list total 175.

BY SIR MAYNARD HEDSTROM

United Press Staff Correspondent

Suva, Fiji Islands, Aug. 16—(U.P.)—

Two hundred men and women, many of them prominent Americans, were adrift in small boats in the South Pacific today, fleeing the foundered steamer Tahiti.

While a few members of the crew remained to pump desperately in a flooded engine room, according to last radio messages from Captain Toten, all passengers and most of the crew were reported ordered to the life boats, as the engine room bulkheads gave way under the swells which have pounded against the vessel's sides for nearly 24 hours.

Although rescue vessels were speeding full steam toward the stricken ship, four were left for many of the occupants of the small boats, almost certain to be adrift for miles over the lonely expanse of water, nearly 50 miles from the nearest settlement of any

Mother of Third Royal Heir

She'll be the mother of a new royal British prince or princess. And if the child expected by the Duchess of York, who is shown here in her most recent posed portrait, is a boy, he will be third in line for the throne after the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York. The Duchess, already is the mother of the present third heir, the popular little Princess Elizabeth. She, however, would be displaced in the royal succession by the birth of a baby brother.

Lines to a Benighted Honeybee

THOU little all-bewildered timid thing
That at the lighted window raiseth up
Thy seeking head,— though here no flowery cup Receives in scented depths thy weary wing,
Yet shalt thou lie full sweetly, triumphing O'er dark and storm, and take thy tiny sup
Of melted sugar from a Worcester cup;
And in a warmed and silken kerchief bring Thine Odyssey to close. The morrow morn
Shall see thee on familiar ground, I vow—
Thy waiting hive is but a moment's flight—
Then shalt thou tell how a bee forlorn
Found ease and shelter in its need.
And now
Fold down thy tiny face, and sleep this night.

—Dorothy Thody.

Daughters Union Veterans Held Meeting

Anna Kellogg Baker Tent No. 18 Daughter Union Veterans of the Civil War, held their regular meeting in the G. A. R. Hall Thursday evening.

Meeting was called to order by the president at 8 o'clock. Reports of various committees were given. The work of the relief committee amounted to $9.50. The Daughters of the Union Veterans District meeting of District No. 3 will hold their meeting at Sandwich, Illinois, October 24.

A report of the 46th reunion of Soldiers and Sailors Association of northern Illinois, held at Polo, Illinois Aug. 14 was given by several members.

Dixon Tent was honored by Mrs.
Maude Hobbs being elected Vice President; Mrs. Mina Hettler being elected Treasurer and Mrs. Nellie Eastman responded to the address of welcome given by the W. R.
C. president of Polo. There were seven comrades from Dixon Post present, and twelve from allied orders of Dixon.

Dinner served by the W. R. C. of Polo was very much enjoyed and a wonderful program was much enjoyed by all. The Boy Scouts deserve special mention.

The meeting closed in form to meet again August 28 at 7:30 in G.
A. R. Hall.

Shepherds Class in Pleasant Meeting

The Shepherd's class of the Evander by the chairman. Roll call was answered by giving "favorite egg beater." Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. The organizing of a child care and training unit and the budgeting plan were also discussed but nothing definite was decided. The leaders then gave the lesson on "small kitchen equipment" which was proposed very interesting. There were 11 members and six visitors in attendance. The place of next meeting will be announced later.

W.H.&F.M.S. Nachusa Church, Met Thursday

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of St. Paul's church at Nachusa met in the church basement on Thursday afternoon, July 14th.

A short devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Harry Weigle, while Mrs. John Weigle led the lesson study for the afternoon. The topic for study was "migrants and lumberjacks" and some very interesting things were learned about the conditions under which these people live and work, and what our Lutheran church is doing to help make them better.

After the lesson study a short business session followed during which our historian, Mrs. Grace Shippert, presented a most interesting and complete history of the society from the time of its organization in 1889 which she has just compiled. This will no doubt prove of increasing interest as time goes on.

At the close of the business session the hostesses, Mrs. Anna Weigle,
Mrs. William Carson, and Mrs. Clara Giroud served delicious refreshments at a long table decorated with lovely garden flowers.

The pleasant and profitable afternoon closed with a social time.
There were about thirty present to enjoy the pleasant afternoon.

Miss Kelleher Bride Of Fred Linebarger

Mayme Kelleher, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. James Kelleher of Amboy, and Fred Linebarger of Clinton, Ill., were quietly married at 7:30 o'clock last Thursday evening, August 7, at St. James Cathedral in Rockford.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Toomy.

The bride was attired in a yellow gown with hat and accessories to match. The bride and bridegroom returned to Amboy following the wedding and are living in the Lauer home on N. Metcalf avenue.

Many friends extend best wishes and congratulations to the newly married couple.

St. James Missionary With Mrs. W. Shippert

The St. James Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Willy Ship-pert. The meeting was opened by all singing an old favorite number.
The president not being able to be present, the vice president led the quiz and Mrs. Peter Mung led the clipping pages. The meeting was then closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. A place for the next meeting was not decided on. After the meeting a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

ARE GUESTS AT L. W. MILLER HOME—

wife.

Wed in Defiance of Curse

It was in defiance of a curse put upon their love that Edward Keller (left) and Mrs. Florence Keller (center) were married, as pictured above, in Newark, N. J. Four months ago Henry Keller—then Mrs. Keller's husband and Edward's brother—committed suicide and left a note which said "I will do you more harm dead than alive. Florence, may you always remember that I loved you once, but I hate you." He was reported to have killed himself when he learned of his wife's love for his brother.

Guests Leave After Pleasant Visit Here

Mrs. Clinton Powell and granddaughter, Mary Anne Zion, accompanied by Mrs. George Hawley whom they have been visiting in Dixon, went to Chicago Thursday where Mrs. Powell and Miss Zion left on their return trip to their home in Modesto, Cal. They will go via Canada, on down to Portland, Oregon, and the west coast, Havre, Montana, Glacier Park, etc., on to California, their home, where Miss Zion will return to school. They have spent a delightful two months with relatives and friends here. They were houseguests of Mrs. George Hawley while in Dixon. Mrs. Hawley returned to Dixon after seeing her guests start on their return west.

"Tossed Both Me And The Furniture About"

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Mary Lewis, opera star, was granted a divorce from Michael Bohnen, operatic singer whom she married in New York in 1927, after a ten minute hearing yesterday on her complaint charging cruelty and desertion.
Miss Lewis testified Bohnen "quite frequently tossed both me and the furniture all about. Shortly before we separated he was in some trouble

Chicken Supper At Walton Well Attended

Many Dixonites were in attendance at the chicken supper given last evening by the ladies of St. Mary's Catholic church at Walton. The supper was exceedingly well patronized, a large number of people from all directions attending and enjoying the tempting repast presented by these excellent cooks. Each year this supper is an event of much interest and last evening it was more than usually well attended and successful.

TO LEAVE ON MOTOR TOUR TO THE WEST—

Galena avenue will leave in the morning in an automobile tour of the west. They expect to visit in Denver, Colo., and in Mitchell, S. D.

RETURN FROM MACKINAC ISLAND—

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Street have returned from a delightful trip to Mackinac Island.

Soups Test Culinary Skill

BY ETIENNE ALLIO, Chef,
Hotel New Yorker, New York City

SOUPS holds, and deserves, the honor of opening the evening meal in thousands of American homes.
That a perfect soup there is no more delicious dish. Than a poor soup—watery and tasteless—there is no more ruinous prelude to what otherwise might have proved a thoroughly soul and appetite-satisfying repast.

To avoid the disaster of a really good results are easy to attain. But to prepare the perfect soup? That is indeed an art which calls for all the housewife's skill in the choice and mixing of ingredients, and the use of seasonings. It is, however, an art which offers as its reward the heartfelt appreciation of all the diners at her board.

Potage a la Creme d'Epinauds— Carefully wash and stem one-half peck of spinach. Cook in double boiler until tender, being sure that the water is boiling before putting the spinach in the boiler. Rub through a colander into a saucepan. Add two cups good stock.

Season with salt, pepper, one teaspoon sugar, a pinch of mace.
Bring quickly to the boiling point.
Stir in one tablespoon butter rolled in one teaspoon flour. Cook one minute and remove from fire.

Potage Longchamps—Drain one can of peas into a saucepan. Add two slices of onion, three cups chicken stock, and one and a half teaspoons sugar. Bring to a boil and simmer for one-half hour.
Blend in a saucepan, one tablespoon flour with one tablespoon melted butter. Pour in slowly, stirring all the while, the pea mixture.
Bring to boiling point; then remove and put through strainer.
Add one cup milk and a few sprigs of fresh mint. Reheat, removing mint in about five minutes, after it has had an opportunity to impart its delicate flavor. Add one-half cup cooked vermicelli and season with salt and pepper.

Potage de Carottes—Wash, scrape and slice thin, twelve medium-size carrots. Place in saucepan with two tablespoons butter.
Season with salt and one teaspoon sugar. Cook slowly, turning constantly until the carrots begin to color. Add two cups good broth and let carrots boil slowly to a glaze. Remove carrots and press through strainer. Return to the broth in the saucepan. Simmer until very hot, and serve.

Willing Workers 4-H Club Held Meeting

The Willing Workers 4-H club met at the home of Miss Hazel Nelson, August 15. The meeting was opened by all singing the club song.

The Minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll call answered.

The treasurer's report was given by Ida Topper. Vivian Wolfgramm who was on the program played a favorite number.

Those on the program for the next meeting are Ethel Topper, Roma Breimer and Dorothy Lutz.

A motion was then made that all adjourn. After the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

After which all departed for their homes having spent a pleasant afternoon.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Florence Moore, August 29th.

Have You Heard?

Life is dangerous enough without skidding, especially in the bath tub.
You can avoid all danger with a foresure rubber mat that is now on the market.

It is constructed so that when you step on it, it adheres to the bottom of the tub securely and with a determined grip. Your step can be firm and your mind untroubled by the danger of falling and breaking your arm, a leg or perhaps your neck. You can get these bath tub mats in any color you wish.

Sowers, Brotherhood Classes Enjoy Picnic

The Brotherhood and Sowers Sunday school classes of the Congregational church held a very pleasant meeting Thursday evening at Lowell.
Reports from class officers of both classes were most encouraging.

The Sowers Class has planned a hard time party to take place at the church on Aug. 28, and the Brotherhood class which they will sponsor as soon as the weather is a little cooler.

At 6:30 o'clock a delicious picnic supper was enjoyed by the members of both classes and a pleasant hour was spent at the park afterward.

Busy Bees 4-H Club Held Meeting

The Busy Bees 4-H club met with Mrs. Daim on August 13 from 2 to 4 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by all repeating the pledge. The roll call was answered. One visitor was present.

Rita Gurgerty gave an interesting talk on "First Aid." Margaret Luke gave a demonstration of "Appropriate Outfits for Different Occasions," and one on "Altering a Pattern."

After the recreation the members went home after a most delightful afternoon.

ORGANDIE ACCENTS BLUE SILK FROCK—

New York (AP)—Organdie trims
the navy blue silk frock chosen by Mrs. George Benjamin for town wear. Wide cavalier cuffs, a circular cape collar and a deep flounce on the skirt accent the frock. The hat is of white straw banded by navy blue grosgrain ribbon.

Hot? How's This for Re-Leaf?

Quite an improvement over the fig leaf that Mother Eve wore in the Garden of Eden is this generous-sized elephant ear leaf from Hawaii. It

Two Cremated Today
In Plunging Plane
Oakland, Calif.—(UP)—Crippled by an explosion immediately after taking off, a small Moth biplane dived flaming to the ground Tuesday, killing its pilot and passenger and virtually cremating their bodies.

The pilot was identified as Albert Miller of Oakland, Chief Mechanic for the D. C. Warren Airplane Agency.

His passenger, burned beyond recognition, could not be identified at once.

The tiny plane had hardly left the ground when it burst into flames.

The only witness, George Nagle, clerk in the airport office, saw a puff of black smoke, then a sheet of flame.

The plane hurtled, nose down, to the field, where a second explosion occurred.

Rescue crews rushed to the spot with fire fighting apparatus, but could not reach the occupants in time.

The new Boulder dam will be 45 feet thick at the top and 650 feet at the bottom with a length of 1054 feet.

THE VANISHING PACKET

The last Mississippi river packet steamboat line has gone from Memphis, Tenn.—and if you have any feeling at all for the color and romance of a by-gone generation, that announcement is guaranteed to make you a little bit melancholy.

A few days ago the Valley Line Steamers, Inc., sole survivor of the Memphis packet lines, put its three steamers up for sale and discontinued operations.

Memphis, as a result, is without steamer service for the first time in more than a century—for the first time, as a matter of fact, since the Mississippi had any steamers at all.

Of course, there is still traffic on the river. The big barge fleets are said to carry a greater volume of freight annually than the old-time sidewheel packets did in their heyday. Furthermore, this kind of trade is increasing. Enormous cargoes come down the river each month, to spill into the funnel at New Orleans for shipment to the East Coast, to California and overseas.

But who can get excited over barges and tugboats? Those old steamers represented a bit of romance left over from a more leisurely and colorful era than our own. They were survivors from a generation which, in retrospect, sometimes looks more attractive than ours. And Memphis was lapped in the glamour that they gave.

Trying to imagine Memphis without packet steamers is like trying to imagine Gloucester, Mass., without fishing schooners. It just isn't right. The picture looks wrong. Memphis ought to do something about it. Probably it's a mistake to get sentimental about it. After all, the Mississippi Valley is a greater artery of commerce now than it was in Mark Twain's day. Its cities are more prosperous. Life is easier for a bigger percentage of its people. The railroad and the automobile, which slew the packets, have certainly been blessings to the valley, as to the rest of the country.

But we have lost something, just the same. Our modern age is efficient and progressive—but it gives us no substitute for the gleaming, white-paint-and-brasswork packets of the old days. It is, in fact, just a little bit dull. The loss of Memphis' river steamers symbolizes the tendency of the age.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

At last the pilot said, "Hop in, you Tinymites, and we'll begin a very thrilling flight across a stretch of land and sea. Right in the cabin take a seat and you'll be set for quite a treat. Perhaps I'll let you all take turns and sit up front with me."

A scramble followed very quickly and Clowry shouted, "This is slick. The plane has dandy windows and we all can look right out. We don't know where we're bound for yet, but it's a pretty place, I'll bet. It's really fun when we don't know what this ride's all about."

The big propeller then buzzed round and soon the plane swept off the ground. Of course the Tinymites were thrilled to ride upon the air. The Travel Man said, "Gaze below and see how fast this plane can go. The spot we're bound for's far away, but we will soon be there."

It wasn't long till land was swept right out of sight. The big plane kept right on across the water, which seemed miles and miles away. The bunch kept quiet as could be, just looking out so the could see. Said Scouty, "This is sure a wondrous way to spend the day."

The Travel Man looked down and then he said, "We're come to land again." And then the plane began to drop. It soon was on the ground. "Hop out," he cried, "Our trip is over. We're going to see some sights once more." The Tinymites all jumped at once and landed with a bound.

They bid the flying man goodbye. Then climbed a hill that led to high above a spreading city. All the Tinymites shouted, "Oh!" The Travel Man then realized that they were very much surprised. Said he, "That's where we're bound for. That is Athens down below."

BATTLE OF BENNINGTON

On Aug. 16, 1777, one of the most significant battles of the Revolution took place when a force of New Hampshire militia under General Stark defeated a combined force of Hessians, British Loyalists and Indians at Bennington, Vermont.

They were sent to Bennington by General John Burgoyne to capture the depot of supplies which the Americans were reported to have there. As the invaders were utterly ignorant of the country, as well as of the Revolutionists' methods of warfare, they were easily trapped, surrounded and captured. Of a force of about 1000, more than 200 were killed and wounded, 70 returned to Burgoyne and the rest taken prisoners. The American loss was 14 killed and 42 wounded.

Washington called this victory a "great stroke" because it prevented Burgoyne from getting the supplies he sorely needed and cut off all communication between him and the garrison he left at Ticonderoga. Further, it resulted in the desertion of a large body of Indians and Canadians, while it greatly strengthened the Americans, particularly by causing the enlistment of large bodies of militia for service under General Gates.

HEMORRHOIDS

By Frank D. Jennings, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Hemorrhoids or "piles" are nothing more nor less than varicosities (like varicose veins on the legs) of one of the circular veins which surround the lower end of the rectum. Of course, they may become complicated by fissures (cracks in the mucous membrane), fistulas (false passages) or other inflammatory conditions, or they may split open and bleed. When we hear of "bleeding piles," "itching piles" etc., we may be sure that some complication of the primary condition is present.

When men began to walk upright one of the penalties they incurred was liability to hemorrhoids, for, in this position, the entire weight of the abdominal organs press down into the pelvis instead of being supported by the front wall of the belly and the lower ribs, as is the case with the four-footed animals.

If we look over the conditions which predispose to the development of these troublesome little tumors, we see what must be done to prevent them. The diet must be digestible and must contain enough fruits and fresh vegetables to prevent constipation. Too much mustard, ketchup, spices and such "hot" things will irritate the rectum.

Long hours on the feet, without lying down for a few minutes to rest, bring heavy pressure to bear in this region; and this is, of course, especially true in pregnant women.

Strong purgatives also cause trouble, because they result in "straining," with consequent congestion. Plenty of fruit and, if necessary, a little mineral oil are much better.

Another matter of importance is the thorough cleansing of the anal region after going to the toilet. It should also be thoroughly washed at least once a day.

It is very dangerous to look upon every troublesome condition about the anus as "nothing but piles." It may be only that but also it may be an abscess, a fistula, or even the first and curable stage of cancer of the rectum. All who think they have hemorrhoids should see a doctor at once, and let him decide.

STRIBLING HOME SEEKING MATCH WITH THE BEST

Young Georgia Boxer Now
Is More Confident
Than Before

By EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Young Bill Stribling is back from Europe with Phil Scott's scalp dangling from his belt and a gleam in his eyes that bodes no good for the rest of the heavyweights who think they can fight some.

Travelling alone, a young man of 25 who has suddenly developed a punch and a desire to use it on all the heavyweights he can reach, the curly-headed Macon boy came in on the liner Aquitania yesterday with an English brindle bull pup "Scrap" and a bad left hand as mementos of his conquest of the British champion.

Bill would like to get rid of the injured paw, broken in three places five months ago in a match with Pietro Corri in Tampa, Fla. It will keep Young Stribling out of the heavyweight picture he now dominates for six weeks at least.

"I had a great time," Stribling announced. "I wish Scott could have been a better fighter but that could not be helped."

Punching Harder

"I knew I was going to knock him out in two rounds just like I told you before I left. I'm punching harder than ever before in my life. I'm heavier, I'm old enough now so that I feel that I can slug it out with any heavyweight in the game. That goes for Jack Sharkey, Primo Carnera and Max Schmeling. I've been boxing 9-12 years and now I'm going to do some fighting."

"First, I want to fight Sharkey," he said. "I'll knock him out the next time we meet even though he did send me a nice cable of congratulations after my match with Scott. Carnera is tougher than most of you think and I'd like another shot at him. Both Sharkey and Carnera I believe are better heavyweights than Max Schmeling, the champion. In my first fight I'd like to go back to Chicago for Nate Lewis, the promoter who gave me the chance to meet Von Porat. I may tackle Tuffy Griffiths there."

Scott Not Much

"Scott wasn't much to kick. I was careful, every time I belted him in the body. I took a careful sight before I let the punch go. I knocked him down three times with body punches and twice with shots to the head. There wasn't the faintest cry of foul. Scott hit me on the nose with a left jab, the first punch, and made me so mad I hit him harder than I ever socked any one before."

"Don't under-estimate Carnera. He can fight better than you think. He has a lot of natural advantages. He's so tall you have to punch up at him all the time and you can't get the power that you do punching down. He's invulnerable around the body. His chin is his only weakness. I hit Carnera for seven rounds with the same socks that finished Scott in two and the Italian only grunted."

Stribling has put on six pounds of fighting weight since he met Sharkey and lost in Miami two years ago.

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Chicago Cubs are going to win the National League pennant again this season, the time is at hand for them to strike the deciding blows. The Cubs are in a fine position today to settle the matter for once and all, having scored a thorough triumph over their closest Brooklyn rivals, by winning three of the four games of the series which ended yesterday.

By virtue of their 4 to 3 victory in yesterday's ten inning struggle, the Cubs are out ahead by two full games. Today they open a series with the comparatively pay Phillies which may become as the one just ended. Brooklyn, meanwhile, moves on to tackle the somewhat tougher Pittsburgh Pirates with comparative few hopes of regaining the lead in the lead in the near future.

The final struggle which put the Cubs into their commanding position was all that could be expected of two teams that were fighting for the top. From start to finish it provided one thrill after another for the overflow crowd of 45,000 and it ended in a blaze of glory for Danny Taylor, substitute outfielder, who broke up the struggle in the tenth inning with a drive into the crowd standing in the outfield.

The Robins made a quick start, bunting four of their eight hits off Charley Root in the first inning for two runs. But from that inning to the ninth the Chicago hurler was almost invincible, and the brilliant Cub fielding provided a perfect background for his work. Old Adolph Laque was just about as good most of the time and forced the Cubs into a long uphill pull to overcome Brooklyn's first inning lead.

The same young Dan Taylor who won the game, started the Chicago scoring in the fifth with a double which Grimm duplicated. He drove in the tying run in the sixth. In the eighth inning, Chicago forged ahead only to have pinch hitters Boone and Hendrik tie the count and send the game into its extra inning.

While the two leading contenders were mauling each other about in Chicago, the New York Giants came up into a position menacing to either one of them by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 0.

With the entire American League schedule washed out by the rain it remained for the elder circuit to supply all the day's baseball news. The Phillies took the first clash, 7 to 5. Pittsburgh went ten innings for a 3 to 2 triumph in the second.

The St. Louis Cardinals picked up their winning streak when Boston broke it Thursday, defeating the Braves, 8 to 4. Home runs by Haley and Watkins featured the game.

WHAT AVERAGES SHOW
New York, Aug. 16.—(U.P.)—New York's two third-place club clubs possess more than their share of batting honors. According to the United Press averages released today and compiled through games of Thursday, August 14.

Thy Yankees are showing the way in team batting in the American with an average of .311 while the Giants top the National with .322. Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, leads the American League batters with an average of .383 and also leads his league in two other departments—runs batted in, with 140, and hits with 167.

Bill Terry maintained his hold of National batting honors with an average of .409. Babe Herman of the Brooklyn Robins displaced Klein of the Phillies in second place with an average of .405. Klein is third with .400 and leads in runs scored with 118, and runs batted in with 125.

Babe Ruth gives the Yankees additional honors by leading the American League in home runs with 43 and runs scored with 129.

Johnnie Hodapp, Cleveland, leads in two-base hits with 36. Earl Combs, Yankees, leads in triples with 16. Gehrig and McManus, both of Detroit, are tied for the lead in stolen bases with 16.

Klein and Herman are tied for two-bagger honors in the National, each having 40. Hays Herman leads in home runs with 40. Adam Comorosky, Pittsburgh, leads in triples with 18. Cuyler tops the base-stealers with 27.

Ed Wells, New York Yankees' southpaw, and Bob Osborn, Chicago Cubs' right-hander, continue to lead major league hurlers in their respective leagues. Wells has won 10 games and lost 2, while Osborn has won 9 and lost 2.

Philadelphia leads the American in club fielding with an average of .975 while Cincinnati tops the National with the same figures.

Model Motor Runs Toy Boat

Daniel Calkin of the University of Washington, Seattle, built a toy boat and then needed a motor to run it. So he built the one-cylinder marine engine he is shown holding here. It has one-third cubic inch piston displacement, one-sixteenth of a horsepower and a sparkplug one-half inch long. It will propel the miniature boat at four miles an hour.

Expect Good Game At Pine Tree Inn

The Dixon Browns will meet one of the fastest semi-pro teams in northern Illinois tomorrow at the Pine Tree Inn picnic in the Kable Kolts of Mt. Morris. The Browns have beaten the Kable one game by a 5 to 2 score at Mt. Morris. The Dixon team will be strengthened by the addition of several new players. The management of the Browns and the Pine Tree Inn are grateful to the Reynolds Wire Co. team for cancelling their game tomorrow and releasing their star pitcher, McClintock to the Browns for tomorrow's game.

NO BREATHING SPEEL

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(A.P.)—The Cubs had just about today for a sigh of relief and satisfaction at having triumphed Brooklyn 3 times in four games and gained a two game lead in the National League, before breaking into a five game series with Philadelphia.

The Browns today had extra duty in the form of a doubleheader with the Phillies. Bud Teachout was to pitch one game, and either Bob Osborn or Sheriff Blake, the hero of the first victory over Brooklyn, the other.

Lott Will Not Seek Davis Cup Position

New York, Aug. 16.—(A.P.)—George Lott, member of the Davis Cup team and No. 4 on the national ranking list, will not be a candidate for the Davis Cup team next year. The young Chicagoan has decided to give up international play for the time being at least and concentrate on business. Lott has represented the United States for two consecutive years in the Davis Cup singles.

Junior Billiard Tourney Arranged

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(A.P.)—A national junior pocket billiard championship match will be played for the first time in Chicago August 27, 28 and 29.
Robert Moore, from Grand Rapids, Michigan, will oppose Charles Caciopaglia, 12 years old, of Rockford, Ill., in the championship test which will be sponsored by the National Billiard Association of America.

Independents Will Play In Rockford

The Dixon Independents baseball team will go to Rockford tomorrow where they will meet the Public

Sharkey Does About- Face: Breaks Word

New York, Aug. 16.—(A.P.)—Jack Sharkey, the Boston sailor, again has stepped forward to figure in the second big heavyweight battle of the year.
After giving his verbal consent to fight Primo Carnera for Migue Malloy in Chicago yesterday he did a right about face and signed with Madison Square Garden to meet Victorio Campolo, the giant Argentine, over 15 rounds at the Yankees' ball park on Sept. 25.

Sharkey's sudden change of mind was prompted by a belated discovery that the Garden held an option on the former gob for one more fight providing it was willing to guarantee $100,000. This the Garden agreed to do and in addition Sharkey was given 45 per cent of the net gate receipts.

The signing of the South American and Sharkey not only ruined a "natural" for Malloy but practically assured that the winner will meet Young Bill Stribling in the Battle of the Palms at Miami, Fla., next winter.

"Old Man" of Midway 68 Years Old Today

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(A.P.)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr., was 68 years old today—and was just as eager to begin work with his thirtieth year in the University of Chicago football squad, as he was when he assumed charge of Athletics on the Midway in 1892.

"The Old Man" perhaps was a little more eager than ever, in contemplating his work, because his son, Paul, with a year of varsity experience, probably will be the Maroons' regular quarterback. The younger Stagg had no competitive football experience before he joined the 1929 squad, but at the end of the season was successfully handling his father's complicated "flanker" passing formation.

Mr. Stagg, who appears no older than 50, planned to follow his usual daily routine, which includes a tennis match with either Paul, or his elder son, A. A. Jr.

CREW SAVES HOUSE

Howell, Ind.—(U.P.)—A train crew saved the farm house of George White from being destroyed by fire here recently when they turned in an alarm to the local fire station. The blaze was noticed by the crew of a Wabash passenger. The train was stopped and the alarm turned in. The only damage done was a hole burned through the roof.

SUBMARINE IS MADE READY FOR POLAR VOYAGE

Sir Hubert Wilkins Will Attempt to Navigate
Below Ice Cap

BY J. T. O'CONNELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Philadelphia—(U.P.)—Floating demurely beside Devey's historic flagship Olympia in the back channel of the Navy Yard here is a little red submarine that may become one of the most historic crafts in the world within the next two years.

The submarine is the O-12, which soon will be converted into the Nautilus, after Jules Verne's brain-child.
Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins, internationally famous Australian Arctic explorer, is having the little submarine remodeled with the idea of making the dream of sea-farers for centuries come true. He plans to cruise in the Nautilus from the eastern to the western hemisphere, under the polar ice cap.

Hundreds of daring seamen of different nations have for centuries attempted to force the Northwest Passage. All have failed. Most of them lost their lives, and literally hundreds of vessels have been crushed to matchwood by the Arctic ice-foxes while attempting the passage.

Sir George, who was the first to fly from one hemisphere to the other via the North Pole, already has begun the preliminary work of remodeling the submarine. As he is a British subject he had to lease the O-12 through the American firm of Danenhower and Lake for the nominal rental of one dollar a year. Cost of remodeling the vessel will approximate $150,000. He expects to start his expedition early next summer, probably in May.

Cooperating enthusiastically with Sir George in his daring project is Simon Lake, veteran inventor and manufacturer of submarines and deep-sea diving devices. Lake himself is anxious to make the cruise but his advanced age—he is past 60—bars him. His partner, Sloan Danenhower, however, will be master of the Nautilus when she dives off the Polar ice cap and slides beneath it.

The Nautilus will be fitted with a toboggan-like super-structure which will enable it to slide along beneath the under side of the ice cap under its own power. Pneumatic drills, which will be mounted in the head of a telescoping conning tower will be capable of penetrating 13 feet of ice. Sir George explained. Explosives also will be carried along for the purpose of breaking the ice at intervals he said during his recent visit here.

"But we may not have to use the ice-breaking device a great deal," he said. "Photographs taken by Admiral Richard E. Byrd and by the Amundsen expedition indicate that the Arctic ice cap is not a solid one. Cracks in the ice and patches of clear water are shown."

"Surface ships could not make it, however, and I am confident that the submarine is the best possible craft to use."

Sir George said that preliminary tests of the Nautilus will be held off the Maine coast next winter. By summer the expedition will be ready for the trip from Spitzbergen to free water in the Bering Sea, near Cape Lisbon on the Siberian side.

The explorer expects the trip to require about 60 days, including a long stop at the Pole itself for scientific observations. Although the cruise will be approximately 2,100 miles, the length of his flight with the late Carl Ben Eielson from Point Barrow to Spitzbergen, the Nautilus will be fueled for 7,000 miles. Provisions for a one-year stay in the Arctic will be carried.

As Blast Spreads Ruin

What a New York chemist, alone at his work on the top floor of a five-story building, sought was a formula for vanilla extract. But what resulted from his experiments was the scene of wreckage pictured here. An explosion of his heating vat tore part of the side wall and roof from the taller building in the background and sent the debris crashing down onto the smaller structure below, burying eleven men and one woman in the ruins. A 19-year-old boy was killed; six persons were seriously injured.

What Guardsmen From Dixon Find To Do; Camp Grant

(Telegraph Special Service)

Camp Grant, Aug. 14.—Last night Joe Berei went on a snipe hunt. After returning Joe remarked that snipe would be scarce this season for he hunted a couple of hours without even seeing one. Once or twice he thought that he saw one of the birds but was unable to catch it. He became lost on the parade grounds and four fellows Donohoe, Shiffley, Mossholder and Bubrick went out to hunt for him. They had a little difficulty finding him for he thought that they were guards and kept running away from them. They finally brought Joe back to camp minus the snipe.

This morning, (Governor's day), a bar of soap was issued to each man of our company. We don't know whether this is an insult or not, as no other company was issued soap. The whole camp paraded before Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling today.

This evening Vernon Donohoe fights for the Illinois National Guard welterweight championship which is held at Cavalry bowl. He is the favorite. He has easily won out in three preliminary semi-final matches.

Tomorrow, we break camp. The hardest days of the camping period are the first and the last days. We start home Saturday morning and will probably arrive in Dixon before noon Saturday.

Edgar Co. Farmers Purchasing Water

Paris, Ill.—(U.P.)—Farmers in the southwest part of Edgar county are paying a dollar a barrel for water. Streams have dried up in this section, and may wells are failing, it was reported.

RUST SPREADERS FOUND

Lincoln, Neb.—(U.P.)—Farmers of Valley county, who complained that for years they have been unable to raise wheat because of rust, may be relieved following discovery of 32 barberry bushes and more than 5000 seedlings on and near the farm of James Petka. Many of the bushes were growing wild in fence corners and section lines, and were scattered for several miles, spreading rust.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM FLOTO (Continued)

William Floto, son of Caroline and Louis Floto, was born in Ogle County, near the Kingdom, July 21, 1867, and departed this life at his home in Lee County, at the Kingdom, August 10, 1930, aged 63 years and 20 days. On January 31, 1889 he was united in marriage to Lottie Cooper of Grant Detour. To this union were born two children, Ora, who makes her home with her Parents and Clifford of Dixon. He was united with the Kingdom Evangelical Church May 14, 1905, under the Ministry of L. W. Martin and remained a faithful member until the time of his departure. His entire life-time was spent on the farm and his interest being centered in his home, his Church and his community. He was a faithful husband, a kind father, and a good neighbor. He leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, two children, namely Ora and Clifford, and as one of his own children, Lucy (Rintoul) Ives who has been as one of the family for a number of years, and her daughter Arlene, to whom Mr. Floto was very attached. He being the youngest of 10 children, leaves 1 brother Henry Floto of Dixon, and three sisters, Mrs. Ernestine Gilton, of Academy, So. Dakota, Mrs. Richard Robinson, of State Center, Iowa, Mrs. Carrie Brink of Dixon, a number of other relatives and a multitude of friends.

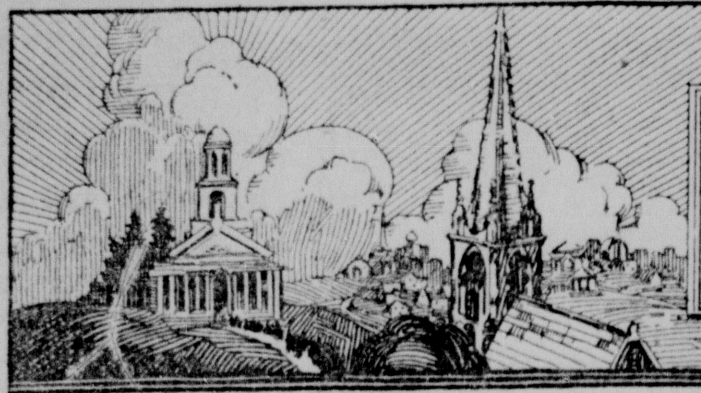

The veterans began arriving here today and registered at the First Regiment Armory. This afternoon the Encampment Officers, headed by Commander-in-Chief Fred W. Green, will be taken on a cruise around the port of Philadelphia.

Indiana Bank Was Robbed This Morn

Twelve Mile, Ind. (U.P.)—Two unmasked bandits entered the Twelve Mile state bank an hour after it opened Thursday, held up O. R. Pickering, cashier, and Miss Bernice Brower, assistant cashier, and escaped in a blue sedan with between $1,500 and $2,000. The car was headed west, witnesses said.
Twelve Mile is located 12 miles northwest of Logansport.

THE TRUTH

St. John 8:32

Truth is the universal standard of value. Science is gradually discovering this fact. The Bible had it long ago. Truth lives, and is eternal. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again." This axiom grew out of the experiences of the ages. It is foolish to defy or deny or deify it. Truth goes marching gloriously on. Truth has no value apart from life. Jesus said, Jno. 14:6, "I am the truth." Not "a" truth. He is the embodiment of the living truth—the truth at its best in life. In this verse Jesus may have said, "I am the true way to live." Life progresses and is successful as it keeps in harmony with truth. Life fails in discord and error.

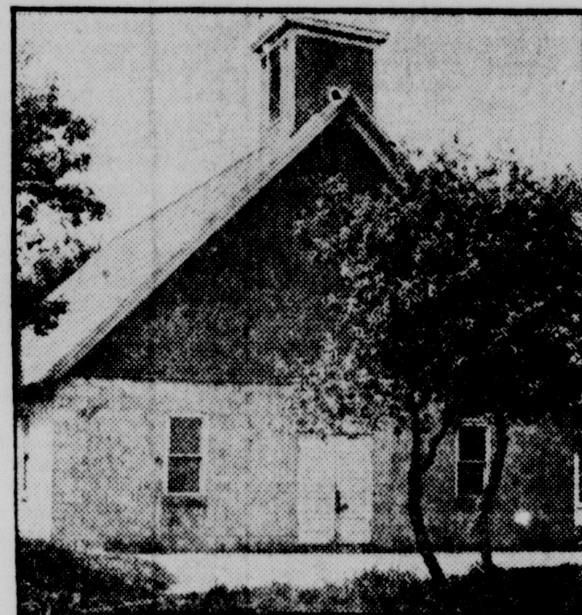

God is truth as he is love. Both are attributes of deity. Truth is opposed to error—they are ever at variance. Error is truth's enemy. Christ represents truth—Satan represents error. Man is divinely endowed with volition. He may choose either truth or error. Christ or Satan, a real true friend or a bitter enemy. Just why men choose the latter is beyond human reason.

Court decisions would often be different if "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" were told. Truth eliminates trouble, and culminates in perfect peace. A nobleman once set out to find the most happy person. He traveled long and far, and came back near to where he lived to find an old Scotch Highland widow living in a small hut at the foot of one of the hills of Scotland. Here he found the object of his ardent search—not far away. Upon being asked the secret of her beaming face and blessed happiness she replied, "I have known Jesus so long now, and have humbly tried to follow His way." "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free."

A little boy, like Eve of old, listened to Satan and told his mother a lie about the cookies that had disappeared. He could not sleep that night. He slipped out of his little bed and went to his mother's bedside and told her the truth. He went back to his own little bed and went to sleep in "perfect peace." "And the truth shall set you free." Satan has bound his millions in error in National relations to the point of savage warfare, in society to the point of breaking up the most sacred ties of homelife, in religion by superstition and ignorance to the point of breaking commandments of the Almighty, breaking the Sabbath and neglecting the worship of God. Truth, the living truth of Christ is the only solution to the earth's ills. "What is truth?" "Thy word is truth." The fullest expression of truth is the highest form of civilization; the other extreme, the fullest expression of error, is abject slavery, bondage, savagery, jungle life and jazz static. Which way, dear friend, are you headed? "The truth only shall set you free." The truth shall gloriously triumph.

CHICAGO MOTOR CLUB SHOWS BEST HIGHWAYS TO NATIONAL AIR RACE

Although detours will be encountered on some of them, these routes are the best to the National Air Races at Curtiss-Wright-Reynolds Airport, near Chicago, from August 23 through September 1.

More than 100,000 persons are expected daily at the National Air Races at Curtiss-Wright-Reynolds airport, four miles northwest of Chicago, between August 23 and Sept. 1, inclusive.

Nearly 2000 airplanes, the greatest number ever assembled in one place, will compete for cash prizes aggregating $100,000. The contests will be held over a five-mile triangular course, and the planes will be in full view of the spectators at all times. Instead of racing against time, several planes will race simultaneously.

Ample provision has been made for the comfort of spectators. Parking facilities have been provided for 30,000 cars, and a vast grandstand has been constructed.

Radial highways leading to the airport have been marked by the Chicago Motor Club, which assisted in formulating the plans for handling the motor traffic. Some of the highways adjacent to the airport will be one-way thoroughfares, and all will terminate at parking areas. Through traffic, not headed for the races, will be directed upon other routes.

Because of a large amount of construction on some of the highways shown on the accompanying map, some detours probably will be encountered. The motor club advised those planning to drive to the races to check their route before starting.

motored to Chicago Sunday where they enjoyed the ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mong of near Eldena were guests Saturday at the home of his brother, George Mong. Mr. Mong has been very ill again the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Garlick of Chicago visited over Sunday at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Lohmeyer.

The Brethren Sunday school class of girls taught by Mrs. R. W. Smith enjoyed their Sunday dinner at Iron Springs.

Remember the band concert Saturday night and the picture show on Wednesday night.

The Aeolian Male Quartette from Laverne College, Calif., rendered a very good entertainment in the Church of the Brethren Friday night. The concert is spoken of very highly. The close harmony of the quartette was very effective in their sacred numbers, Negro and spirituals and saxophone solos, which were accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Moore of this place, added variety and enjoyment to the splendid program.

The Aeolians have crossed the continent eastward and are now on their return trip to sunny California. They all will be seniors in Laverne College this fall. A splendid group of young men.

Delightfully Entertained

Saturday afternoon twelve young ladies were entertained by Miss Carrie Gross with a four-course bridge luncheon. The tables were beautifully decorated in a color scheme of pink and white flowers. Her mother, Mrs. R. C. Gross was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. W. Crawford, Mrs. F. C. Gross, and Mrs. William Crawford. First prize was won by Miss Winifred Hausen, the second honor was awarded to Miss Lucille Morris.

ERRORGRAMS

This Scrambled

INFORIRE

Not so good.

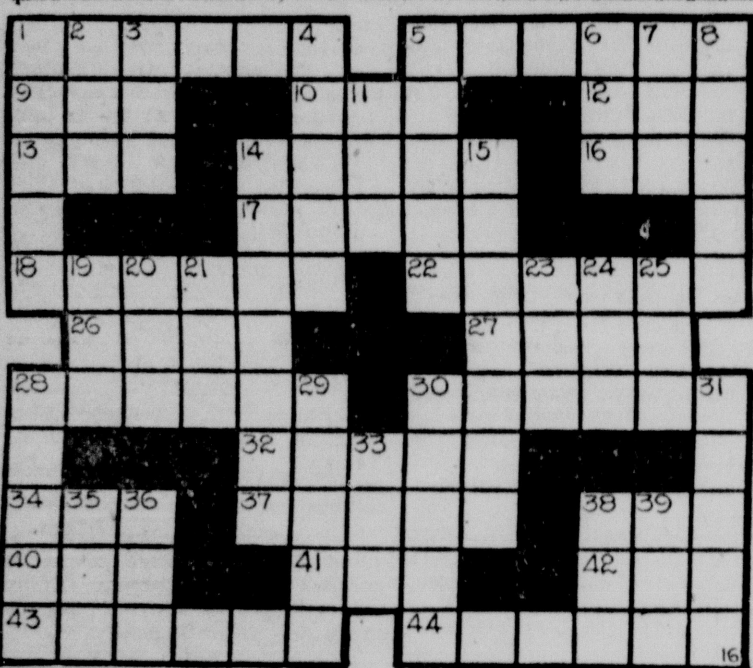

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Monday we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bet.

FRIDAY'S CORRECTIONS

Side Dishes Point Up Flavors

By ETIENNE ALLIO, Chef,
Hotel New Yorker, New York City

SIDE dishes—the various slaws, a bit of fruit prepared in some unusual manner—point up the flavors of the dishes with which they are served, and go far toward giving the added zest of surprise and variety.

Deserving a far greater popularity than they now enjoy, it is hard to say why, except for the ordinary cole slaw, they so seldom appear upon the home table unless guests are present. They are inexpensive and easy to prepare, and there seems to be no good reason why they should not become regular items of the family menu.

Peach and Pineapple Curry.—Fill the bottom of a casserole with a layer of sliced, canned pineapple. Dot with butter and sprinkle with two teaspoons brown sugar and one teaspoon curry powder. Add a layer of canned peaches and sprinkle with the same amounts of brown sugar and curry powder. Repeat the process until the dish is filled. On the top layer, which should consist of peaches, double the amount of sugar and curry. Bake for one-half hour in a moderate oven. For those who like more or less curry, the amount may be varied. Delicious with roast lamb.

Cheese Slaw.—Let one pint of shredded cabbage stand in cold water until fresh and crisp. Dry and mix with five tablespoons grated cheese, one teaspoon mixed mustard, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon brown sugar, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, few grains cayenne. Add three-fourths cup buttermilk, mixing thoroughly. Pour over the cabbage and cheese. Garnish with green pepper rings.

Banana Vinaigrette.—Peel and slice lengthwise four or five large, firm bananas. Pack in shallow casserole. Mix together one tablespoon vinegar, one-half cup beef stock, one-fourth cup brown sugar. Pour over bananas. Dot with four large tablespoons butter and bake in hot oven for twenty minutes. Serve with roast beef.

BAILIFF SURE 'GRAF ZEPPELIN' PURSUED HIM

Urbana, Ohio, Court Attache Startled By Low Goodyear Blimp

Urbana, (UP)—So far as Tom Heck is concerned, it was the Graf Zeppelin that pursued him over several miles of Champaign county roads before he finally outdistanced the craft in the Heck family car and saved himself and car from a bombing attack.

Such was the tale that Heck breathlessly related when he recently dashed into common pleas court which he serves as bailiff, and gasped that he had been the target for an impending air attack. And that is the story that Tom still swears by, despite much eye-brow raising from skeptics.

Driving serenely along the pike from his home in St. Paris to Urbana, Heck's early morning reveries were interrupted by the sudden dive of a giant aircraft.

The roar of the motors increased and when Tom checked the Heck car to peer upward he was amazed to see the mighty Graf swooping down upon him. In his line of vision, Tom perceived several passengers on the companion ways, poised as though ready to hurl bombs upon an unsuspecting country-side, which, at that moment, included himself.

Throwing the Heck car into gear, Tom sped down the highway but despite a frenzied rate of speed, the Graf hung tenaciously to his trail. It was not until several miles had been traversed did Heck succeed in outstripping his pursuer, and soon reached Urbana, where the harrowing tale was told. Necks craned—aloud or foreign—bove into view to convince an incredulous audience.

But while some were repeating his story to Urbana townfolks, citizens in adjacent towns were gazing upwards to watch the Goodyear blimp "Vigilant" cruise proudly through the skies.

Ex-Follies Girl To Wed Pickford

Mary Mulhern, 22, and brunet, former Ziegfeld Follies dancer, is to become the third bride of Jack Pickford, 33, brother of Mary Pickford, according to a "notice of intention to wed" filed by Pickford at Salinas, Calif. Pickford, who is the former husband of Marilyn Miller and Olive Thomas, said the wedding would take place soon at Pebble Beach on the picturesque Monterey peninsula.

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930

by NEA SERVICE Inc.

by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAN RORIMER, temperamental young man of Hollywood, can't get along with the studio manager at Confidential Pictures and tears up his contract as scenario writer and asks to be fired. But he isn't. Dan has become secretly interested in ANNE WINTER, a young girl from Tulsa, Okla., who is working as an extra. She has had stage experience, and she knows enough to warrant a screen test at Grand United studios.

Rorimer lives with PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers. Anne lives with MONA MORRISON and EVA HARTLEY, two extra girls. Eva is rather bitter. She does not get enough work to make a living, and Dan suspects that they may be some sort of tragedy in her life.

GARRY SLOAN, famous Hollywood director, has shown some interest in Anne Winter, although hardly enough for her to warrant any high hopes. Dan does not care much for Sloan; he is an admirer, however, of MARTIN COLLINS, formerly of Confidential, now with Amalgamated. Collins invites him to a home-warming at his home, and he brings Anne along.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

RORIMER recognized among the faces he saw in the patio a few that he had beheld more than once on the screen. There was an executive from Amalgamated, too, and a director, and lesser folk. He presently found himself beside a dazzling blond young lady who Collins informed him, was playing a lead in the picture he was at present directing.

Farrell was her name, and Maris Farrell wanted to know immediately if Rorimer was "in pictures." "I heard Mr. Collins say you were at Continental."

Dan smilingly informed her that he didn't act in them. "I'm trying to write them, that's all."

Miss Farrell, looking at him critically from beneath mascaraed eyes, said she saw no reason why he shouldn't do a little of both, and he laughed.

"What a friend you turned out to be! I think I'll stay right here all evening."

"That would be just fine," Maris Farrell assured him with a flash of brilliant teeth. "May I have a cigarette? Someone is going to sing, and I'll have to do something if I can't talk."

There was a Mexican, with broad brimmed hat and bright sash and jacket, and tight-fitting green trousers with bottoms like bells, and he sang for them for a while and played an accordion. The Japanese butler moved unobtrusively among the guests, bearing a tray with drinks, and Rorimer found before very long that he came around quite often. And Miss Farrell wanted to know in a slightly husky whisper if Dan didn't think it would be much more sensible if the glasses were about twice as tall, so that the butler could save himself a lot of trips.

It would be an admirable idea, Rorimer thought, and she asked him if he had ever been invited to tea at the home of a certain black haired star whom she named, and when Dan said no, she told him that if he ever went there he would see the "most precious" highball glasses in Hollywood. "Each one holds a pint, or very nearly, and is about a foot high."

She added that she would get a set just like them, only she imagined they were frightfully expensive. "They came from Europe."

"I'm sorry I missed them," Dan said. "I don't get around very much, though. I leave the social honors to the man who lives with me."

"And who is he? Do I know him?"

She told Collins she would love to explore the house with him.

RORIMER said he wouldn't be surprised if she did. "I think Paul Collier knows nearly everyone in Hollywood."

"Paul Collier? Do you live with Paul Collier?"

"Why, of course I know him! He has had tea and luncheon with me lots of times. You must get Paul to bring you over some time," she added.

Someone came over to speak to Maris Farrell just then and Rorimer was left alone for a minute or two with his thoughts, and he had opportunity to observe Anne Winter and to remark that the man with her was being very attentive. Frank Maury, Collins had said his name was, and Dan remembered that Paul Collier had found occasion to mention him once or twice of late in his column. Collier had said that Maury, who was a free-lance actor, was riding on a sud due wave of feminine popularity, and two of the larger studios were trying to get him to sign a contract.

Maury had dark, curling hair, which Dan thought was in need of trimming, and he was bronzed to the color of an Indian. But he looked like a young god, and Dan found it easy to believe that he might have found great favor among women screen devotees. He and Anne were sitting together on a little bench, and Maury was talking animatedly and gesturing fluently with his hands. Rorimer caught Anne's eye once, and she smiled, but Maris Farrell's low voice beside him brought him back to her.

The Mexican finished "Ramon" and bowed and made a smiling exit, and presently there was the sound of an orchestra from the ballroom, and Mrs. Collins paused for a moment to tell Maris and Dan that there was dancing for those who felt ambitious enough for it.

Maris got up at once and took Rorimer's arm, but on the way inside she said, "There's a phonograph there. If we get bored up stairs we can come down and dance in the patio." Anne Winter and Maury were still in the patio when they left.

Anne said, "We seem to be the only ones left out here. Don't you think we'd better go in?"

"I'm perfectly satisfied out here," Maury told her, leaning unnecessarily close to her, "but if you say so."

And Anne rose, and he had to follow.

She was glad when someone cut in on them after a while and took her away. It was Collins, and Anne found his friendly, amusing chatter a relief from Maury's impressiveness. She didn't like the way Maury held her when he danced, had stiffened her body against his too-tight embrace.

COLLINS inquired whether she was keeping busy, and she told him about the forthcoming production at Grand United and the part she hoped to merit.

"It's nothing very impressive, really, but it's rather wonderful to me."

"But it's not the fatness of the part, Miss Winter; it's what you do with it." And Collins told her some things that sounded very comforting and set her to tingling with hope. "There's Maris Farrell, for instance; she just about stole a picture away from a star once with a few lines."

Maris Farrell, he added, was a "corner." "She'll be a star some day if she keeps on the way she's going. . . . You met her, didn't you? She's the girl that had hold of Dan Rorimer for a while. For quite a while," he said, and laughed.

His eyes roved the room, and he said, "I don't see them now. Maybe Maris has kidnapped him. Don't trust her too far, Miss Winter. I warn you, she's dangerous."

Anne threw back her head and looked up at him and laughed. "I think she's beautiful," she said. "I can't blame Dan if he falls under her spell. Where is she from?"

"Maris? She's a comparative newcomer to the screen. She was glorified by Ziegfeld."

Maris, he continued, was the kind that would "get along." "She's a very ambitious girl, and she has the knack of being lovely and agreeable to everyone she meets."

He added, jokingly, that he wondered if that wasn't one way of cultivating a lovely and agreeable personality for the screen. "Nothing like working at it all the time, you know."

Their dance ended, and Collins wanted to know if she would like to look around the house and grounds.

"Helen"—that was his wife—"and I are like a couple of kids with a new toy, and we love to show off."

Frank Maury was coming toward them, walking a little unsteadily, and Anne hastily agreed. She shuddered a little to think of being cornered by Maury and having to listen to his heavy flattery, especially since it had been seasoned by his frequent trips to the punch bowl.

So she told Collins she would love to explore the house with him, and he said that if she would promise to be very quiet about it he would even let her tiptoe into the children's bedrooms.

"I'll promise," Anne said gaily, and she took his arm. "I won't make a sound." And she asked him to tell her about his children.

"A leading man of five," he told her, "and a seven-year-old vamp with hair almost as black as yours. She's not quite as pretty, though."

He added, and he drew away for a second and looked at her in smiling appraisal; "but I have hopes."

He took her, then, to the bedrooms where the children lay sleeping, but first he had to win the consent of the smiling little Japanese maid who watched nearby.

"Taulka, do you suppose you could open the door for just a tiny little peek?" He held a finger to his lips, and Taulka considered a while and then nodded.

Collins said, "Taulka's very strict with me about this. Aren't you, Taulka? It's quite against her rules. Well, we'll just be a second."

And after Anne had seen the children and admired them, he strolled with her through the upstairs, and then he told her she must see the swimming pool.

Only a few guests were dancing as they passed the ballroom. Collins said he supposed that his wife was conducting another tour some place. "Maybe they're over in the dressing rooms by the pool, picking out their bathing suits. You knew we were going swimming later on, didn't you?"

"Why, no," Anne said. Collins said, "Oh, yes; it wouldn't be a real housewarming if they didn't try out the pool. And some of the ferevered brow," he added, his smile crinkling the corners of his eyes and stretching his little mustache, "will want a little cooling before the party's over. They always do."
